

Seeing the Capital Differently

Silver & Gold

Welcome to CityThemes

By printing this leaflet you have decided to discover, or rediscover, the sights and delights of London in a different way. We hope that you enjoy your explorations of our fascinating and historical capital city.

This leaflet has been designed to allow you to explore as the mood takes you. Both well-known and lesser-known attractions are included and they are randomly listed so that you plan your own itinerary and visit as many or as few as you wish.

Please note:- some places restrict entry and ask for prior application either in writing or by telephone. This is indicated where known. Others may change opening days and hours with little warning – it may be worth checking by phone if they are off the beaten track.

A very brief description of the reason for the choice of site is given but because of space it is not possible to include much detail. Again a telephone call to the site may help you to decide on whether a visit is worthwhile. Remember there may be other items that interest you at the same site.

Themes are constantly being updated and new titles added so please keep looking at our website or get in touch with us by e-mail or letter. We welcome your comments especially if you feel that some site should be included or details are incorrect/inaccurate. Contact details are

No.1 London was built between 1771 and 1778 and was the home of the Duke of Wellington between 1817 and 1852. It is an example of revived Louis XIV style. The interior was furnished by the Duke and includes a silver 7.9 mt (26ft) long table centrepiece in the Dining Room presented by Portugal in 1816. The Wellington Shield is a gilded silver 40in (101.6cms) diameter plate presented in 1822 to the Duke of Wellington by City of London merchants and bankers in thanks for his victories against Napoleon. It shows the Duke on horseback being crowned with a laurel wreath. A wide border shows reliefs of events during the Peninsula Campaign this well-known English criminal court, built in 1902, stands partly on the site of Newgate Prison. It is open to members of the public who wish to hear criminal court cases. On the dome of the roof there is the well-known gilded statue of Justice. Twelve foot (3.6m) high and erected on the dome in 1907 she holds sword and scales but is not blindfolded as is often assumed. The statue was cast in bronze and covered in gold leaf which is replaced every five years
